

Eastern Time, January 28, 2025

9:30 AM

Professor Theron Vale (Helmsman)

Morning Review

Good morning, my friends!

I'm Theron Vale, your old friend. It's undeniable that opportunities are always given to those who are prepared. In the first half of 2024, AI mega-tech stocks, led by NVIDIA, surged in a crazy upward wave, and we successfully predicted and precisely seized this opportunity, advising everyone to go in strong, even using leverage to buy. Many of our friends achieved exceptional returns, and some even reached their financial goals in one move. However, just as the market is always full of uncertainties, yesterday NVIDIA plunged more than 16% in a single day, setting a record for the largest drop in history. The same stock, at different times, in different positions, led to drastically different outcomes. This makes us realize even more deeply the importance of making the right choices.

When we realized that the risks in the stock market were increasing due to high levels, we decisively adjusted our strategy, recommending that 90% of our funds be shifted to the crypto market, while keeping only 10% in stocks. As it turned out, this decision was incredibly right, we not only successfully avoided the risks of stock market consolidation and potential downturns, but also seized the massive profit opportunities in the crypto market. Behind all of this, we couldn't have done it without the precise guidance of AlphaStream 5.0, which helped us complete one profitable challenge after another, allowing us to continuously break through and steadily move forward in the market.

Choice and action determine the ultimate outcome. Just last week, the launch of TRUMP coin delivered an astonishing 450x return in less than two days, completely igniting the passion of the entire crypto market. This not only shocked the U.S., but also refocused global investors on the immense potential of the crypto market. All of this reminds us: when faced with an opportunity, your choices will determine how far you can go and how high you can soar.

Now, it's time to make a decision! As Trump said during his campaign, "Will you choose a strong, prosperous America, or an America on the path to decline?" And now, each of us faces the same question, will we choose the crypto market, a historic opportunity that can rewrite our destiny, or will we continue to watch from the sidelines, or even hesitate? There are no right or wrong answers, but these choices will determine our future.

After facing a shooting and numerous challenges, Trump ultimately returned to the White House and fulfilled his mission. And what about you, dear friend? Have you truly fought for your dreams? In this crypto market, full of endless possibilities, the opportunities are clear and certain. The key is whether you have the courage to take that critical step, whether you have the courage to embrace the future with action. We all know that the power of choosing to act will eventually transform into the results we hold in our hands.

May each of us seize the opportunity, live up to the times, and honor our dreams. Let action begin now, and create the pride that belongs to our future!

In life and investing, opportunities are always fleeting. Churchill once said, "Never waste a good crisis." This statement feels particularly profound and relevant today. We are living in a rapidly changing, opportunity-filled era, and 2025 will undoubtedly become the dawn of investment in the crypto market. The return of the Crypto President has not only reignited the passion of global investors but also provided an unprecedented opportunity for ordinary people, a Kondratiev wave cycle to rewrite their destinies. However, this opportunity is not visible to everyone, nor is it something everyone dares to fully seize. The opportunity is right before us; the key lies in how you choose to act.

There is a verse in the Bible that says, "Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might." This is not only a belief but also a guide for action. In the face of uncertainty in the market, we need decisiveness, wisdom, and most importantly, courage. Will you choose to seize the opportunity and take proactive action, or will you continue to stay conservative and miss the chance to change your future? This is an important decision that everyone must face.

Now, an incredible opportunity is right in front of us, the "Battle of King" profit plan. This is not just an investment plan, but a bridge that will help us achieve our dreams and create miracles. Those who have already joined have already seen the immense potential it offers, and they are steadily moving closer to their wealth goals. For those who are still on the sidelines, it's time to make a decision.

Choosing to join the "Battle of King" profit plan is not only choosing a strong and hopeful future, but also choosing to fight for your dreams and act on your beliefs. We need to believe that as long as we give our all, success is within reach. The market will never wait for those who hesitate, but it will reward those who dare to seize opportunities and take action.

Today, we stand at a critical juncture. Facing the current volatility in the stock market and the certainty of profit opportunities in the crypto market, we must seriously consider how to prepare and lay a solid foundation for future success. Friends, it's time to make a decision. Join us, and let's seize this historic opportunity, not only for our own future, but for our families, for our dreams, and for the goals worth fighting for. Let's move forward together with faith, and take action to embrace the arrival of success!

IAT COMMUNITY

On Monday (January 27), the tech sector was severely impacted, and the U.S. stock market saw a significant decline. The S&P 500 index dropped nearly 1.5%, while the Nasdaq Composite, which has a heavier tech weighting, plunged over 3%, with more than $1 trillion in market value evaporating in a single day. NVIDIA became the “epicenter” of the storm, with its stock price falling nearly 17%, wiping out $589 billion in market value, setting a record for the largest single-day market value loss in history. This also caused NVIDIA to lose its title as the world’s most valuable company, with its market value dropping to $2.9 trillion, surpassed by Apple at $3.45 trillion. Apple rose 3% on the day, becoming a safe haven for capital. Although NVIDIA rebounded slightly at the market open today, this seems more like a technical correction from yesterday’s sharp drop. The short-term trend has clearly weakened, and the likely trend moving forward will be a high-level consolidation, rather than a return to an uptrend. This correction does not mean that the risks have been eliminated, and in fact, it calls for even more caution.

The trigger for the tech stock crash came from a Chinese startup, DeepSeek. The company launched a new AI application, which reportedly outperformed OpenAI's ChatGPT in several tests. The app topped the U.S. Apple App Store download charts on Monday, sparking panic in the market. Other chipmakers, such as Broadcom and TSMC, saw declines of 17% and 13%, respectively, while Microsoft dropped 2% and Google's parent company Alphabet fell 4%.

Oracle's stock also plummeted, with a nearly 14% decline. This drop completely reversed the gains made last week following President Trump's announcement of a $500 billion AI infrastructure deal. SoftBank Group, which is part of the deal, also saw an 8% drop in the Tokyo stock market.

The market is concerned that China's rapid rise in AI technology could shift the global tech industry's competitive landscape. The U.S. strategy of restricting China's access to critical technologies like chips may have unintentionally accelerated China's self-research efforts, reducing its reliance on U.S. technology. This not only could cause China to disappear from the U.S. customer list but also potentially make it America's number one competitor.

As Samuel Turner mentioned yesterday, when both the index and individual stocks are at high levels, any negative news will be amplified by market sentiment. The underlying reason is that the buying power after a sustained rally has begun to weaken, making it easier for bearish sentiment to ignite. This is especially true for tech stocks with large market capitalizations. With institutional buying significantly reduced, it's difficult for retail funds alone to sustain high price levels. Once buying dries up and negative news emerges, the explosion of bearish sentiment becomes almost inevitable.

Yesterday's market is the perfect example, the VIX, or fear index, surged over 20%, directly reflecting the sharp shift in market sentiment. In such an environment, high-priced tech stocks became the focal point of risk. This once again confirms that our strategy was correct: by moving away from those high-risk, small opportunities in the stock market, we not only avoided potential downside risks but also shifted our focus and funds toward the crypto market, where the profit potential is clearly much greater.

Seizing the trend and avoiding risks is the investment principle we've always adhered to. In the current market environment, the best choice to let profits keep running is the crypto market. Friends, direction is more important than effort, and often, our choices determine the outcome!

Dear friends, at this critical moment, I believe many of you already have a deeper understanding of our "Battle of King" 300-1000% profit plan. This is not just a plan; it's a bridge we are building together to create our wealth matrix and move toward financial freedom. But how can we achieve low-risk, high-return results amidst market fluctuations? Today, I will share with you the core strategies behind our success. Please pay close attention.

Our wealth matrix consists of two parts: a stock portfolio and a cryptocurrency portfolio. Given the massive profit potential in the current crypto market, we have decisively chosen it as our main battleground. The high volatility of the crypto market offers us unprecedented opportunities, and our AlphaStream 5.0 system has already proven its unmatched accuracy in real-world trading. This system has not only helped us capture every key trading point but has also elevated our profit efficiency to new heights.

Scientific Strategy: Balanced Offense and Defense

1. Offensive Strategy: Cryptocurrency Contract Trading

In the cryptocurrency market, we fully leverage the power of contract trading with its inherent leverage effect, adopting an aggressive offensive strategy. With the precise signals provided by AlphaStream 5.0, we can efficiently profit from market fluctuations. Every trade is backed by high-certainty decisions supported by data and logic.

2. Defensive Strategy: Fixed Income Investment Products

To ensure the steady growth of our capital, we allocate part of our funds into fixed-income products with the highest annualized return over 30 days. This defensive strategy not only provides us with stable cash flow but also effectively diversifies investment risks, ensuring the continuity of our profits.

Personalized VIP Tiered Strategy

To help everyone achieve greater fund management efficiency, we have designed the VIP partner system, which is divided into three levels based on fund size and risk preferences: VIP1, VIP2, and VIP3.

- Precise Tiered Management: The higher the VIP level, the greater the profit potential, and the strategies become more refined.
- Flexible Adjustment Plans: Each VIP partner can adjust trading strategies flexibly based on their fund size and goals, ensuring high returns while keeping risks always within a controllable range.
- Efficient Capital Utilization: The tiered strategy optimizes capital efficiency to the maximum, with every trade scientifically designed to deliver stable and considerable returns.

Continuous Optimization and Personalized Support

If you miss any information from the group due to your busy schedule, feel free to DM me, and we will provide personalized support. Whether it's optimizing your existing stock portfolio or adding new investment opportunities, I will offer you the most professional advice. At the same time, the profit opportunities in the crypto market will be precisely supported through AlphaStream 5.0's real-time signals, ensuring that every investment carries higher certainty.

The future belongs to those who take action. In this era full of opportunities, the goal of low-risk, high-return is not out of reach, but a result that can be easily achieved through scientific strategies and team effort. Each of us faces a choice: to watch and wait, or to take decisive action and seize this opportunity that is destined to change our fate?

As we welcome another exciting new week, I want to remind everyone of the guiding principle we've always followed: "Large funds, small positions, low risk, high profit." This trading model is nothing new to us; it is the key to our continued success and will become our standard approach moving forward.

In this profit plan, the potential of this model has been fully demonstrated. VIP3 partners have already achieved over +860% total asset return, which is undoubtedly an achievement to be proud of. However, the performance of VIP1 and VIP2 partners has lagged behind, with profits of less than +243% and +418%. We cannot settle for the current situation, and there is no reason not to pursue the same level of glory.

Therefore, in the next two weeks, I am determined to lead all VIP partners in replicating VIP3's success and making up for any past shortcomings. We will work together to ensure that every member can meet or even exceed their goals. This is an opportunity for all of us, whether you're a new friend who just joined or a long-time warrior who has been with us all along. Now is your call to action. This is our moment to break through again and reach new heights.

I believe that as long as we stay focused and move forward with courage, through persistence and effort, we will certainly achieve remarkable success. Facing the challenges ahead, let us embrace every opportunity with unwavering belief and strive to create a glorious tomorrow for ourselves. The call to battle has sounded, and now it's time to give our all and welcome the victory that belongs to us!

No matter which trading model we use, always remember one thing: maintaining steady compound growth is the true key to profit. Some of you may think my trading style is a bit cautious, and that's true. Although the AlphaStream 5.0 system can capture many opportunities on short-cycle charts every day, I tend to choose signals with the highest "stability." Because in trading, one wrong decision may require two successful trades to make up for it, further proving the importance of steady compound growth.

It is precisely because we adhere to this principle that AlphaStream 5.0 has maintained its perfect record. This is not because we find more trading opportunities, but because we only choose the trades with the highest certainty. This approach not only reduces risk but also makes each of our steps more stable.

Dear friends, now is the best time to take action. Whether it's joining the "Battle of King" profit plan or upgrading to a higher VIP partner level, every decision will become an important step toward your brilliant future. With the powerful features of AlphaStream 5.0 and our collective efforts, we will undoubtedly create a wealth legacy that belongs to us.

Remember: true success begins with a courageous choice and is achieved through steadfast action. Let's seize this moment, give our all, and together, write the brilliant chapter that belongs to us!

AI 5.0

Eastern Time, January 28, 2025

3:30 PM

Samuel Turner

Closing Commentary (α&β Strategy)

Good afternoon, community members!

I'm Samuel Turner. This morning, Helmsman vividly illustrated what it means to make the "right choice" by sharing the inspiring story of Crypto President Trump's return to the White House. Will you choose to be brave and strong, or settle for mediocrity? Think about it, Trump chose to run for president even when faced with life-threatening situations, demonstrating extraordinary perseverance and determination. This indomitable spirit is an important lesson for each of us, whether in life or investing, when faced with challenges, we must firmly make the right choices for the future.

In investing, this means we cannot be scared off by short-term fluctuations and uncertainty; instead, we must make decisions that are most beneficial for our long-term interests. Take the current crypto market, for example, the opportunities are so great they could change destinies. Yet, some people are still hesitating and waiting, missing out on a historic opportunity. The Helmsman has reminded us multiple times that this moment is a precious choice given to us by the times, and this choice will determine whether we can achieve greater returns in the future. Now, here's the question: when the opportunity is right in front of you, will you choose to retreat, or will you rise to the challenge?

Investing has never been just about managing capital, it's also a test of willpower and intelligence. We need to be like Trump, not backing down in the face of difficulties and uncertainty, always pursuing our goals. When you're faced with an investment decision, ask yourself: Have I fully utilized the resources available to me? Am I using advanced tools like AlphaStream 5.0 to support my investment decisions? Have I maintained the highest level of execution to ensure each choice creates value for the future?

Guys, now is the time to gather your courage, like Trump, and relentlessly pursue your goals, not letting any setbacks knock you down. The market is full of challenges, but behind every challenge lies a rare opportunity. We must face them bravely and act decisively. With our belief and wisdom, let's lay a solid foundation for the future.

Today, under the Helmsman's leadership, we precisely analyzed market trends, optimized our investment portfolios, and clearly outlined the strategic path to achieving low-risk, high-return through the "Battle of King" profit plan. The Helmsman has not only set unprecedented high standards for our VIP partners but is also committed to keeping potential losses to a minimum. This is not just guidance; it's a beacon filled with ambition, determination, and drive, lighting up our financial universe and leading us through uncharted territory.

Imagine this: with these high standards and rigorous strategies guiding us, we are like the crew of a starship about to embark on a journey into space. Every carefully designed operation not only keeps us moving steadily forward but also accelerates our progress at an extraordinary speed. VIP partners, my fellow space travelers, we are approaching the boundaries of breakthrough, the next stop: the moon! Can you feel the exciting pull of this journey, this clear and undeniable goal?

Yes, we are in a great moment, an era full of possibilities. Let's grip the steering wheel, give it our all, seize every opportunity, and continue expanding our wealth horizons. Are you ready, friends? This is not just an investment journey, but a path to surpass ourselves and embrace the future. The victory at the next stop is calling, let's charge toward brilliance together!

Looking at the monthly candlestick chart of the S&P 500, it's clear that after nearly 20 months of continuous upward movement, the current high-level area is likely to test the upward trendline. The Helmsman's channel theory remains as accurate as ever, and the time cycle aligns perfectly, so we must approach the potential monthly-level pullback with caution. Yesterday's sharp drop in NVIDIA may just be the beginning. While the exact timing of the adjustment is uncertain, it's clear that it won't be far off.

You may have noticed that the certainty of profitable opportunities in the stock market is rapidly shrinking. Many losing stocks quickly fall after a brief rally, clearly designed to lure in retail investors, while truly valuable big tech stocks are stagnating at high levels in consolidation. This market environment tells us that the risk and reward balance has become severely skewed, lacking in value for money.

As I often say, if a stock makes me hesitate about whether to go in heavily or use leverage, then subconsciously, it's not a good trade. As it turns out, the decision to decisively sell all my stocks at high levels was absolutely the right one. I chose to give up the "small opportunities" in the stock market and instead seized the "big opportunities" in the crypto market, taking my capital to a new level. This once again reminds me of the importance of "choice," something the Helmsman has always emphasized.

For example: In January 2024, we bought NVIDIA and made substantial profits; yet, investors who are chasing the highs now may suffer significant losses. This is the magic of time cycles, making the right choice at the right time leads to completely different outcomes.

Currently, the crypto market is undoubtedly the most certain path, meeting key conditions such as capital focus, news stimulation, and fair trading. In this market, AlphaStream 5.0 has led us to one profitable plan after another. Choose wisely, take action, and the results will surely be favorable. If you're still stuck in the stock market, caught in indecision, you're bound to make small profits, or even face losses. Instead of complaining that the times haven't given you opportunities, take a moment to ask yourself: Why did you choose wrong? Why can't you make yourself successful?

The key to success lies in choice and action. If you see an opportunity, you must go all in, take it seriously, and not just go through the motions. As long as you put in your best effort for the choice you make, I believe the results will not disappoint you. As Helmsman said, "Even if the outcome isn't exactly what you expected, as long as you gave it your all, you will never feel regret or disappointment."

We each play our part in this investment stage, using the hard-earned money we've made to create profits amidst market fluctuations. And those who survive on investors' funds, living off management fees and celebrating in the process? They are more like part of a circus. Guys, when I expose this, I don't hold back. Because the truth is, the profits that truly belong to you come from the price difference between buying and selling. The most authentic feedback is the profit and loss status of your account.

Is there anything wrong with seizing the opportunity to trade? Of course not! As long as your account continues to generate positive profits, you're on the right track. Just like the "Battle of King" profit plan we are executing, if your current returns are below average or even showing a loss, the issue isn't with the opportunity itself, but with a flaw in your trading process. Identify the problem, fix it, and get back on the profitable track, that's what you need to do right now.

Now, let's talk about how to better leverage our strategies. Trend trading and volatility capture are our key tools for success in this market. What we focus on is never the short-term market fluctuations, but finding stable and sustainable profit points within the medium- to long-term trends. Every trading decision is based on rigorous market analysis and strong data support, not on the offhand predictions of self-proclaimed "experts" who boast without substance.

In this volatile market, staying calm and rational is crucial. We won't be swayed by short-term market noise; instead, we will use precise technical analysis and deep market insights to find the best trading opportunities. Teams, now is the time to bring out our wisdom and courage, giving our all to win every battle.

Have you ever wondered why people often say "real-world experience is the best form of growth"? The answer is simple. Our Helmsman has proven this point through years of action. He has built sincere connections with community members and has never let them down. When faced with doubts and negative comments from peers, the Helmsman has always chosen to ignore them. We are too busy chasing our dreams to waste time on that noise.

If you closely observe the Helmsman's teachings, you'll find that he is a person of great reverence. He is humble, diligent, honest, hardworking, and even frugal. He has taught us how to respect the market and cherish every bit of achievement. He leads a group of people willing to take risks and keep moving forward, and that is the very force that propels the AlphaStream 5.0 system forward.

Helmsman shows us through action that success is not about theoretical perfection, but about the experience and growth gained through real-world practice. In the market, every trade is a lesson. Through practice, we not only reinforce what we've learned, but also uncover new problems and find new solutions. His connection with the community members is not just a link to trading success, but is built on trust and sincerity.

He teaches us that true success is not about short-term profits, but about long-term accumulation and growth. He never wastes time responding to negative voices because he understands that the most powerful response is action and results. And we are proving, through our efforts and achievements, that his teachings are correct. Guys, let's give our all, keep chasing our dreams, and welcome even more brilliant moments!

Guys, please note, a trading signal was just released for VIP partners. I've observed that this is a small-cycle chart trade, and it's expected to move as quickly as lightning. Don't let this opportunity slip away.

Guys, what do you see?

~ Every trade is well-reasoned, and the high win rate continues: So far, our win rate remains at 100%. This is no coincidence; it's based on deep data analysis and a rigorous trading strategy, truly reflecting professional expertise.

~ Helmsman would rather earn a little less, but ensure steady compound growth: This is his sense of responsibility towards the market and his commitment to each one of us. Steady steps are what will take us further on our wealth journey, not the pursuit of short-term, quick gains.

~ Helmsman dares to take responsibility and has full confidence: As long as you strictly follow the trade instructions, he can guarantee the safety of your investment. This is not just empty talk, but based on his years of hands-on experience and deep market insight.

Although AlphaStream 5.0 has kept us undefeated, there's no need to panic even if the market experiences extreme volatility and the direction changes. AlphaStream 5.0 will promptly adjust the strategy, ensuring we continue moving forward steadily. All you need to do is follow the instructions completely and execute them strictly. This is the beauty of quantitative trading: allowing precise algorithms to replace the human brain, eliminating emotional interference and indecision.

So, if you're still hesitating about increasing your investment, guys, now is the moment to decide! Every day is incredibly valuable, and when our "starship" reaches the moon, the regret of missing out on this luxurious opportunity may leave you wishing you had acted sooner.

Try to imagine this: with the powerful support of AlphaStream 5.0, we not only secure steady profits, but also continuously expand our investment horizons. The opportunity is right in front of us, and the leap to wealth begins with the decision we make right now. Now is the time to seize the opportunity, join us, and let your investment dreams take off from here!

Guys, the VIP partners' orders have been successfully closed! Be sure to keep this victory in mind. This trade was incredibly simple and perfectly aligned with my α & β bullish strategy framework. Congratulations to everyone for achieving substantial profits of 70% to 90% in this lightning-fast trade!

To solidify our gains, now is the time to transfer half of the profits from this trade into a 30day investment product. This will not only grow your wealth steadily, but also create more security and buffer for future investments. Remember, our goal is not short-term windfall profits, but rather to achieve our long-term dreams through stable, continuous wealth growth. Every step is crucial, as they are building a solid foundation for your future success.

The trade I just completed has made me even more certain that a strong market rally is brewing. With key economic data being released throughout this week, the volatility in the crypto market will undoubtedly continue to expand. But hold on to your hats, because native tokens on trading platforms could shine even brighter, and I've already sensed an opportunity with up to 900% profit potential! As the Helmsman often says, using small positions to capture big returns is a smart and exciting strategy. With the steady support of AlphaStream 5.0 as always, this will be an extraordinary market operation.

At this moment, I can't help but wonder if Helmsman will reveal more new trading strategies to us. Imagine this: scaling in phases? Combining medium and short-term cycles for positioning? Aggressively scaling in after breaking through key points? These are all hallmarks of seasoned trend traders, and perhaps we're about to experience an even more engaging real-world training session!

Guys, joining the "Battle of King" profit challenge is like embarking on an epic interstellar adventure. Imagine our collective wisdom propelling this starship, gliding through the uncertain nebula of the market with unmatched grace and precision. On this journey, we are not just investors, but pioneers in the financial universe. The moon? That's just the first relay station on our journey. The future holds even grander goals waiting for us.

Especially after Helmsman set a strategy for our VIP partners to maximize profit distribution today, I'm confident that our starship is about to accelerate forward. We're here not just for profit, but to learn how to navigate the market with greater wisdom and precision. Through this journey, we will truly become pioneers in the market, writing our own brilliant chapter.

So, fasten your seatbelt and get ready for this unprecedented adventure! Here, the stars are no longer our destination but the starting point to endless possibilities. Guys, that's all I have for today. See you tomorrow, for our new victories and continued success!